

Electronic Gift Cards

Bring More Customers to Your Business

The Perfect Solution to Grow Your Business

Electronic gift cards encourage repeat business, attract new customers and boost sales all year long. The booming stored value card business accounts for billions of dollars per year in sales for retailers nationwide. Elavon's Electronic Gift Card Program (EGC) is the perfect solution to lay claim to your stake in a new era of consumer spending.

Our EGC solution maximizes stored value card sales with a complete package of marketing features. Ever mindful of your business needs, simple administration and top-notch security are built-in features to make program management simple and cost effective.

How EGC Works

Retains 100% of Purchased Value

- Unlike paper certificates, value is retained for partially used cards
- The sales price is deducted from the card and the remaining balance used later
- Remaining balances bring return visits and ensure that the entire value will be spent at your business

Integrates Seamlessly into Your Business Environment

- Works on all of Elavon's supported payment terminals and software solutions
- Administration is as easy as regular credit card purchases
- Monitor transaction details and card balances online

Benefits At a Glance

Stored value cards are a smart business choice for many reasons, including:

1 Bring in New Customers

Gift cards given by loyal customers entice friends and families to sample your business. The cards are ideal for promotional mailings, charitable donations, come-back rewards, and other marketing programs.

2 Increase Sales & Profits

Most card recipients spend more than the value of their gift card – 25% more on average – and there's no cash back required. And, when used for merchandise returns, the value stays on the card and never leaves the store.

3 Encourage Repeat Business

Stored value cards are great for regular customers, enabling them to conveniently use a prepaid balance for recurring services.

4 Popular with Customers

Gift cards are consistently one of the top gifts during the holiday season. They also attract new customers and boost sales all year long.

5 Simple To Manage

With consolidated electronic reporting and tracking, Elavon's EGC program is simple for any size business to manage.
